

CAMP POLICIES

Special Needs Policy

SCA does not have staff or facilities to properly care for children who, in camp's judgment, have medical, social, behavioral, or psychological disorders. SCA reserves the right to refuse enrollment, or to send home any camper who (1) has a condition beyond camp's capability to provide proper care; or (2) poses an unreasonable threat to the health or safety of themselves, other campers and staff. Disclosure of health history is crucial to SCA's ability to provide a supportive, safe and healthy camp environment for your camper. Failure to do so may result in your camper being sent home with forfeiture of your registration fees.

Managing Medical Needs of Campers

It is our goal that every camper can feel safe, secure and well cared for in the day camp setting. If your child has a medical condition that the camp needs to accommodate, please make the camp aware of those needs on the camper health history form that you will fill out at the time of registration. Please be aware that should the extent of medical needs not be fully divulged on the medical emergency form at the time of registration to camp, the camp reserves the right to suspend admittance into camp until an effective camper medical management plan can be established. Science Camps of America, its counselors and staff may not be trained to provide for all physical, mental, emotional or otherwise medical needs of all children. Should a physical, mental, emotional or otherwise medical condition of a camper be above and beyond what is deemed typical for this type of camp or such care be beyond that which the camp, camp counselor or staff member be specifically trained for, the parents may need to provide, at their expense, a one-on-one assistant.

The camp usually has the services of a registered nurse. Our nurse holds and dispenses all medication except for inhalers which may be kept by the camper but the camper must notify the nurse whenever the inhaler is used. Camp counselors and other non-medical camp staff are not permitted to administer medication to campers.

Please be aware that a nurse may not always be available when a situation with a camper arises. When the nurse is not available, the parents, camp director or emergency medical assistance (911) will be notified depending on the circumstances.

Should you have concerns regarding your child's health and/or participation at camp, please contact the Director who can put you in touch with the camp nurse.

Food Allergy Notice

Science Camps of America does not provide or prepare special diets. Some allergy producing foods, such as peanut butter, are served at every meal, every table, and in the dining hall.
